The EXL Center for Experiential Learning's
Spring 2019
Faculty Caucus

2:00 – 3:30 pm

Tuesday

April 23rd

The EXL Center, 168 Bierce

This is an open forum for any faculty member interested in experiential learning on the UA campus who also wishes to learn about and contribute to the direction of the EXL Center. Attending one or more of these caucuses makes the participant eligible to run for the EXL Center's Faculty Steering Committee.

EXL's mission is to help students emerge as civically engaged, adaptable leaders, ready to join in the enterprise of building strong and sustainable communities by promoting hands-on, community-based, problem-centered learning.

EXL's Goals are to

- support, expand, create new experiential learning programs
- assist faculty with barriers to innovative, interdisciplinary, experiential teaching
- help students as they explore their own interdisciplinary and innovative pathways
- sustain existing, and develop new community partnerships that bring UA students together with local business and non-profit change-makers
