STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

This issue of The University of Akron English Department Course Bulletin reflects the efforts on the part of the Department faculty to enrich the Department curriculum. In addition to courses in Shakespeare, English Literature, American literature, and international literature, a wide range of writing and linguistics courses are offered for undergraduate as well as graduate students. Prospective students will find upcoming courses described by the professors who will teach them. These descriptions provide the student with a clearer outline of course content and requirements than can be found in either The University of Akron’s General Bulletin or the class schedule bulletin which is issued by the University. Courses are arranged in this Course Bulletin in numerical order. Courses which satisfy the Shakespeare, linguistics, and world/multicultural literature requirements, as well as the minor requirements are identified in the course descriptions.

The English faculty hopes this bulletin will be helpful to counselors and students in planning the best possible selection of major courses and electives.

The Department of English requires that students complete freshman composition before enrolling in other English courses. The following courses DO NOT count toward the English major or minor degree requirements: 3300:111; 3300:112; 3300:250; 3300:252; and 3300:281.

Students should consult the English Department advisor about their questions. Graduate students should consult with the Graduate Coordinator.

The program will help meet our technological society’s growing need for educated people who can develop sophisticated strategies for effective communication of business and technical information. People in the business community increasingly depend on communication to solve complex management, sales and information processing problems. The communication demands of business and industry are significant, and in many ways, different from those dealt with in traditional courses and majors. This certificate will recognize their preparation for handling the communication needs of business and industry, and must be earned concurrently with an undergraduate (associate or bachelor’s) degree. A student who already possesses an undergraduate degree may directly pursue this certificate.

Program Credits

UNDERGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN TEACHING ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Philathia Bolton, Ph.D, Director, pbolton@uakron.edu

This program is intended for both native and non-native speakers of English who seek training in the teaching of English as a second language (ESL) and wish to obtain an initial qualification to teach ESL/EFL in educational settings other than public schools in Ohio or in countries outside the United States.

The program is designed to introduce the student to central issues in the theory and practice of teaching English to non-native speakers through courses in modern and applied linguistics, in second language pedagogy, and in related disciplines.

Students who do not have English as a native language must demonstrate adequate proficiency in English with a valid TOEFL score of 550 (paper based)/213 (computer based)/79 (Internet based/iBT) or higher, or a valid IELTS score of 6.0 or higher. The awarding of this certificate is not contingent upon completion of a degree program. Undergraduate certificate programs require a 2.00 grade-point average.

• Students admitted with an undergraduate status are required to take 3300:111 English Composition I and 3300:112 English Composition II prior to applying for the certificate.
• All students who wish to pursue the TESL certificate should meet with the program director to discuss the program and availability of courses.
• To apply for the certificate, fill out the “ADD Certificate” form with the certificate advisor. After all requirements are completed, fill out the “Undergraduate Certificate Program Application” with the certificate advisor.

Undergraduate Program: 330003C

This certificate requires the completion of a minimum of 18 credit hours of course work, including five core courses and one elective course.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN ENGLISH

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The English Department requires for acceptance into the M.A. program a B.A. in English, a minor in English, or other suitable course preparation.

To qualify for full admission, a student must meet the Graduate School requirement of a minimum overall GPA of 2.75 for four years or 3.0 over the last two years. The application must be completed online at the following website: https://app.applyyourself.com/?id=uakron-g. Applicants must request that official transcripts of undergraduate and, if applicable, graduate work be sent to the Graduate School. A nonrefundable application fee is also required. Applications should be received at least six weeks prior to registration, which may occur in the fall, spring, or summer terms. To qualify for provisional admission, the Graduate School requires a minimum overall GPA of 2.5 over four years or 2.75 over the last two years. A student whose GPA falls below 2.75 or who lacks the B.A. in English may be granted deferred admission and given post-baccalaureate status, which is a probationary category.

Applicants to the NEOMFA in Creative Writing must be accepted by the Graduate School at The University of Akron or one of the other three participating universities. They must also submit three letters of recommendation, transcripts, and a writing portfolio. The portfolio will be reviewed by an admissions committee of members from all four universities. Applicants using The University of Akron as a “gateway” school for the MFA must additionally satisfy the requirements for the M.A. program listed above.

For those students admitted to the NEOMFA program, up to nine credits from previously uncompleted graduate degrees may be accepted for transfer credit. Of the nine elective credits, up to six may be from advisor-approved courses not solely restricted to graduate

FINANCIAL AID

Graduate Assistantships

Graduate assistantships in the Department of English are awarded on a competitive basis to M.F.A. Applications for fall appointments will be accepted until February 1. Students may renew twice, for a total of three years of support.

Along with the application form and letter of application, applicants for assistantships must submit a clean copy of a writing sample in the form of a typed essay completed in a college course (5-10 pages), two letters of recommendation, and scores from the general section of the Graduate Record Examination. All assistantship application materials must be submitted on paper. Please mail (not email) all materials directly to the Graduate Coordinator in care of the English Department.

The letter of application should address:
1) why you are interested in the position
2) what prepares you for the position both as far as your work history and academic preparation, and
3) how your experiences and interests would contribute to the program’s academic atmosphere.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER OF FINE ARTS
IN CREATIVE WRITING (NEOMFA)
(33007MFA)

The University of Akron, Cleveland State University, Kent State University, and Youngstown State University offer jointly the MFA in Creative Writing. This degree provides students with opportunities to develop their skills in writing fiction, poetry, drama, and creative nonfiction. The MFA is the terminal degree. Through extensive practice in workshops and craft and theory courses, students will develop their creative writing abilities while also studying literature and completing a relevant internship.

Admission Requirements

Students must be accepted by the Graduate School at The University of Akron or one of the other three participating universities. Applicants must also submit three letters of recommendation, transcripts, and a writing portfolio. The portfolio will be reviewed by an admissions committee of members from all four universities. Applications must be submitted by January 15.

The deadline for all assistantships in the Department of English is March 1.

Degree Requirements

Students must complete the following courses among the participating universities:

- Writing Workshops: 15 credits
- Craft and Theory Courses: 9 credits
- Literature Courses: 6 credits
- Internship: 3 credits
- Thesis: 6 credits
- Electives: 9 credits

A total of 48 credit hours is required for the MFA in Creative Writing.

Up to nine credits from previously uncompleted graduate degrees may be accepted for transfer credit in the NEOMFA program.

speare's plays and/or poems. Satisfies the General Education Tier II: Disciplinary Area Courses
"Humanities" Requirement. CANNOT be used to fulfill the English department requirements.

275  Specialized Writing: Business  3 credit hours Business Writing provides instruction and extensive practice in writing effective memos, letters, and short reports for typical business situations. A special feature is the preparation of a résumé and practice in job application letters. Successful approaches for conducting job interviews are also included. Recommended for students planning to work in business and industry.

276  Intro to Creative Nonfiction  3 credit hours
This course introduces students to techniques of Creative Nonfiction through a series of exercises intended to give experience with the form and develop toward full length work. The main focus is on student writing, with extensive discussion in workshop setting. Prerequisite for Advanced Creative Non-fiction. Satisfies the Minor in Creative Writing requirement.

277  Introduction to Poetry Writing  3 credit hours Practice in writing poetry, and study of the craft of poetry using contemporary models. Students will learn a variety of useful literary terms and techniques, and will present their poems for peer critique during workshop. Attendance and participation are essential. Satisfies the Minor in Creative Writing requirement.

278  Intro to Fiction Writing  3 credit hours
This course is an introductory workshop in fiction writing, and gives almost exclusive attention to the writing of students. Our class sessions will be almost entirely discussion-based with minor lecturing on aspects of the craft students should become familiar with. We will be using our own texts and selected pieces from established writers to hone in on refining our own craft. Writing exercises will help students develop characters, dialogue, plot, scenes, the ability to reflect on action in a story, the revision process, and many other fiction writing techniques. Satisfies the Minor in Creative Writing requirement.

279  Intro to Script Writing  3 credit hours
A course in developing the visual imagination. Craft scenes, create characters, write dialogue, construct plot-arcs, and learn screenplay formatting. Class will be a small, informal group responding to each other's scripts. Satisfies the Minor in Creative Writing requirement.

281  Fiction Appreciation  3 credit hours

Consideration of contemporary poems in addition to student works, and discussions on publishing and public reading. Students will create a chapbook of their poetry in this class. Satisfies the Minor in Creative Writing requirement.

378 Advanced Fiction Writing
3 credit hours
This course is an advanced workshop in fiction writing, and as such gives almost exclusive attention to the original creative work of students. Our class sessions will be almost entirely discussion-based with minor lecturing on occasion by the instructor on aspects of the craft students should become aware of, such as opening narrative space, controlling content, and balancing the delicate relationship between an author, her/his characters and a story’s narrator. We will be using our own creative manuscripts to hone and refine our craft. Short exercises will contribute to individual story development. Submissions will consist of current, original work composed this specific semester. Please do not submit older material. This course satisfies the minor in creative writing requirement.
Course Descriptions

379  Advanced Script Writing  3 credit hours
This course focuses on writing for the screen and developing the visual imagination. Students will craft a complete screenplay for possible submission to agents, production companies, and contests. We will also consider the in’s and out’s of querying agents and production companies; as well as criteria for legitimate contests. Class will be a small, informal group responding to each other’s scripts. Satisfies the Minor in Creative Writing requirement.

381  Advanced Creative Nonfiction Writing  3 credit hours
This course workshops original creative nonfiction produced by students, and explores the genre through close-reading, analysis, and evaluation of published essays in both academic and popular media. Satisfies the Minor in Creative Writing requirement.

390  Professional Writing I  3 credit hours
This course, designed to help prepare students for careers as professional business writers, stresses both theory and practice of written communication in the business organization. Emphasis is on individual and group performance. Situations underlying functional writing as well as the special needs of business are illustrated by actual cases. Students learn to adapt style and organization to specific writing purposes and situations through the customary business media of memo, letter, résumé, short report, and long report. Required for the Certificate Program in Professional Communication and the Minor in Professional Writing.

391  Professional Writing II  3 credit hours
Introduces students to the types of writing done by professional technical writers. Students will work on adapting technical materials to a variety of audiences, writing technical definitions and descriptions, preparing technical instructions and reports.

406/506  Chaucer  3 credit hours
This course will provide an introduction to both late medieval England and the works of Geoffrey Chaucer, who has been called the father of English poetry. We’ll start by reading a dream vision called The Parliament of Fowls and by learning to read and pronounce Chaucer’s Middle English. Then we’ll work our way slowly through his masterpiece, The Canterbury Tales. Satisfies the M.A. in Literature requirement for British Literature up to 1660, and the Chaucer requirement if needed. Satisfies the English major requirement for poetry.

430/530  Victorian Poetry & Prose  3 credit hours
This course focuses on influential authors, genres, and events during Queen Victoria’s reign in Britain (1837-1901). We will consider significant poetry from this period, fiction by Charlotte Brontë, Charles Dickens, and R.L. Stevenson, and plays by Oscar Wilde and George Bernard Shaw. Topics of discussion will likely include: legacies of Romanticism, the rise of the middle class, urbanization, imperialism and empire, the Bildungsroman, the Angel in the House, madness and desire, and the return of the Gothic past. Satisfies the requirement for a course in British Lit. after 1800, a course in fiction, and a course in poetry.

440  Women in Film  3 credit hours
This course examines representations of the feminine and treatments of gendered issues in mainstream Hollywood films. Students explore film noir, romantic comedy, science fiction, action/adventure, horror, and the musical within an introductory framework of feminist film and literary theory. The course consists of discussion and lecture; scholarly readings; and film viewed in class.

_Satisfies the Minor in Popular Literature and Film requirement. CANNOT count for the Education women writers requirement._

453/553 American Women Poets 3 credit hours

This course explores American poetry through the study of work by a diverse selection of contemporary women poets. _Satisfies the English major distribution requirements in world/multicultural literature, American literature after 1865, and poetry, as well as the Education requirement for a women writers course._

457 Writers on Writing 3 credit hours

Writers on Writing is a course about the writing life, and in this section we will discuss inspiration, process, craft, and revision, and the ways writers develop both individual pieces and an entire body of work. We will read the various texts of this class as practitioners seeking insight on the work of others, as well as our own. In addition to considering the philosophical aspects of being a writer, we will address issues of literary citizenship, and practical topics regarding publishing creative work and remaining productive beyond a degree program. _Satisfies the minor in Creative Writing requirement._

466/566 Linguistics & Language Arts 3 credit hours

A foundation course in linguistics with a focus on pedagogical implications for second language (L2) learners. Fundamental concepts in the core of linguistics, including morphology, syntax, semantics, phonetics, phonology, and pragmatics as well as in other fields of linguistics, such as sociolinguistics are covered in lectures and structured linguistic exercises with both English and other languages for contrastive analyses. _Satisfies the requirement for graduate and undergraduate students who are pursuing studies in TESL/TESOL._

478/578 Grammatical Structures of Modern English 3 credit hours

Contemporary understanding of English sentence structure. Topics include sentence types, modification and subordination, the roles of the parts of speech, the rhetoric of the sentence, and comparative grammar of dialects. Traditional grammar will be discussed. _Elective for the Certificate in Linguistic Studies and the M.A. in Composition._

489/589 Sem: Disease in Literature 3 credit hours

A study of illness in literature from the early modern period through the present. Diseases may include plague, tuberculosis, greensickness, cancer, AIDS, and addiction; course goals include exploration of cultural attitudes toward disease and health care providers, as well as analysis of the function of disease as a dynamic of the literary work. _Satisfies the requirement for a course in fiction._

489/589 Sem: Politics in American Literature 3 credit hours

This course surveys some of the great political novels, with an emphasis on newer books. We will also study the recent success of creative nonfiction about political culture as an alternative to the political novel. _Satisfies the requirement for a course in American Literature after 1865 and the requirement for a course in fiction._

489/589 Sem: Literature of the Occult 3 credit hours

_STUDENTS IN ALL MAJORS ARE INVITED TO READ, DISCUSS, AND ENJOY SELECTED SHORT STORIES THAT EXPLORE SUCH TOPICS AS CLAIRVOYANCE, PRECOGNITION, DEVIL WORSHIP, SEANCES, EXORCISM, WILL CONTROL, AND THE EVIL EYE. WE ALSO ENCOUNTER MODERN POPULAR NOVELS OF THE OCCULT, FROM BOTH BRITISH AND AMERICAN AUTHORS._ _Satisfies the undergraduate requirement in British Lit. after 1800; American Lit. after 1865; Lit. Course in Fiction and the Minor in Popular Lit._
Senior Seminar (Studying the FBI Files of Six American Radicals)  3 credit hours
This seminar will use FBI files obtained through the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) as a resource for studying a diverse group of cultural figures who were targeted for Justice Department surveillance during the Cold War: James Baldwin, Dorothy Day, Michael Gold, Lorraine Hansberry, Agnes Smedley, and Pete Seeger. We will read and discuss key literary works by these important activists, then explore their FBI files for insights about why each was deemed threatening to the state. We’ll also consider how the information in the files constitutes a specialized tool for understanding U.S. radicalism in context. Supplemental readings include William Maxwell’s recent model of FBI-file interpretation and theorizations of state surveillance by Foucault, Adorno, Derrida and Chomsky.

As part of the course, students will make an FOIA document request for their own research purposes. Since this is a senior seminar, we will share ideas about the advantages of a liberal arts education and the merits of the English degree. To register for this course, please contact Dr. Mary Biddinger at marybid@uakron.edu.

Practicum  3 credit hours
Prerequisite: Teaching Assistantship. Principles of teaching composition, designing syllabi, and developing class plans. Includes aligning theory with practice. Limited to teaching assistants in the Department of English.

Shakespearean Drama  3 credit hours
This seminar will deal with Shakespeare as a professional dramatist in the Early Modern English theatre. Although various approaches may be used, the primary focus will be on text, performance, and theatrical conditions, both contemporary and modern. Satisfies M.A.in Literature requirement for British literature up to 1660 and the Shakespeare requirement if needed.

New Directions in the Teaching of Writing  3 credit hours
This course addresses the current trends in Composition Studies, including technological innovations, and reviews ways to apply this knowledge into first-year writing courses. Elective for the M.A. in Composition.

Theories of Composition  3 credit hours
This course examines the evolution of composition theory, reviewing its milestones and evaluating competing trends. Appropriate for teachers of K-12, post-secondary composition, and those interested in pursuing a Ph.D. No background in composition theory needed. Required for M.A. in Composition.

20th Century Literature  3 credit hours
This fully online course emphasizes recent critical approaches to Twentieth Century American Literature, and it asks students to undertake scholarly research appropriate for the graduate level. Course objectives are, first, to help teachers (or future teachers) of literature expand their knowledge of useful works and interpretive methods, and second, to consider in detail how such knowledge might impact the secondary school classroom. Elective in the M.A in Literature and the MFA.
The syllabus includes works by Willa Cather, Ann Petry, Nella Larsen, Philip Roth, Chaim Potok, Bobbie Ann Mason, Richard Wright, and others.

689  Sem: Responding to Student Writing  3 credit hours
This course will familiarize students with the key scholarship regarding instructor's response to student writing. Students in this course will apply knowledge derived from the theories and research we read. Further, we will study appropriate grading criteria, especially as located in the framing of essay assignments. Elective for the M.A. in Composition.

689  Grad. Writing Seminar: Creative Nonfiction  3 credit hours
In this MFA creative nonfiction writing workshop, students will propose a semester-long writing project tuned toward their own literary style, goals and writing background. Once the proposals are discussed and approved, each student will submit two to three pieces of original work to be read and discussed by the workshop participants. Individual readings will also be assigned, tailored to each writer’s aesthetic and goals. NEOMFA students ONLY.

689  Craft & Theory of Fiction—The Family in Fiction  3 credit hours
The exploration of family in fiction continues to thrive in our ever-changing literary world. Writers have always used fictional narratives to capture and deconstruct the nature of what constitutes family, which is various, wide-ranging and often complex. By doing so, they have presented unspoken truths, unmasked hidden secrets, shattered societal assumptions and stereotypes, documented specific periods of time and geographic locations, and have pushed readers to rethink and reimagine how we see family not just in terms of our own experiences but through the lenses of various other cultures and traditions. This course should not be mistaken as a class on “family-friendly” fiction. Nor should it be assumed that it will only engage in looking at domestic realism stories since there are a plethora of genres that are just as interested in the family in fiction. On the contrary, we will examine a wide range of fiction that approaches the concept of family, from the poorly-labeled “traditional family,” to single parenting, to surrogate family units and friendships, to workplace family structures, to challenges in expected gender roles. The course will aim to also be multicultural and multigenerational in perspective. Along with reading and assessing published works, each student will come out of the course having written and workshopped at least one original piece that attempts to capture the family in fiction as s/he wishes to express. You will not be constricted with your original work. Instead, you will be encouraged to take your own family in fiction narrative where your creative impulses lead you as we build a positive, supportive and inspiring semester-long classroom community. NEOMFA students ONLY.

689  Graduate Writing Seminar: Poetry  3 credit hours
NEOMFA Graduate Writing Seminar: Poetry will focus almost exclusively on student writing, with a significant amount of time dedicated to workshopping. This welcoming and productive workshop is ideal for both poetry concentrators and students taking the course to fulfill an out of genre workshop requirement. Please note: limited to NEOMFA students. NEOMFA students ONLY.
Notes
The Literary Guild & The Upstart Crows

The Literary Guild is a group of graduate and undergraduate students from many majors who are interested in literature and share a common love for the written word. The Literary Guild sponsors a reading group and a writing group, dubbed The Upstart Crows, which hosts “open mic” poetry nights, travels to see plays performed in Akron and Cleveland, and engages in a variety of other intellectual and social activities throughout the year. New members from all majors are always welcome.

Society of Akron Graduate English Scholars

SAGES is a student organization open to all English graduate students that focuses on helping English graduate students of all tracks (Composition, Fine Arts, and Literature) develop professionally during their time at The University of Akron by providing members with tools to help them publish, present, and prepare for the future. SAGES also strives to promote unity among English graduate students by creating events, providing resources, and visiting places that benefit scholars of all three tracks.
