OVERVIEW OF WORK RULES, POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

As a bargaining unit member, you are subject to the terms and conditions of employment enumerated in the Collective Bargaining Agreement (“CBA”) between the University of Akron (“UA”) and the Communications Workers of America (“CWA”). Article 27 of the CBA indicates that the University can establish a consistent set of work rules, policies and procedures to regulate the conduct of bargaining unit employees. These rules will be applicable to all CWA, Staff Bargaining Unit (SBU), employees located at the University of Akron, main campus. The Department of Human Resources expects every department to administer these work rules consistently.

In addition to these rules and regulations, each campus unit may issue additional rules and regulations, pending final approval from the Department and Human Resources, which may be unique to their individual operation.

It is the responsibility of each employee to know and understand all of the rules and regulations which govern their employment. Violation of any work rule, policy or procedure may result in appropriate disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

In addition to the CBA and these work rules, employees are subject to all applicable state and federal statutes, rules and regulations, as well as all University of Akron Board of Trustees’ rules that are not in direct conflict with the terms of the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

PURPOSE:

To establish a consistent set of policies and procedures for employees to utilize if they are going to be absent from work.

PROCEDURES:

REPORTING OFF:

The University expects employees to report to work each day at their scheduled start time. An employee who is unable to report to work as scheduled (regular work or scheduled overtime), must notify their immediate supervisor and/or other designated contact of their absence at or by their scheduled starting time, unless emergency conditions prevent such notification.

When an employee’s duties are part of a function which operates twenty-four (24) hours per day, seven (7) days per week, that employee is required to report off at least two (2) hours BEFORE their scheduled starting time.

If an employee is out of work on a previously approved vacation, sick leave or leave of absence, the employee is not required to provide daily notice of their absence.

SICK LEAVE:

The University reserves the right to require a physician's certification or other verification in all instances of paid sick leave. In the case of any absence for illness or injury, the University may require a physician's statement specifying the employee's inability to report to work and the anticipated date of recovery. Unexcused absences or failure to give proper notification may result in the absence being charged to leave without pay.

The University reserves the right to require a physician's certificate when sick leave is required to care for a member of the immediate family.

Employees will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action up to and including termination for violations that include but are not limited to the following:

1. Using or attempting to use sick leave for an absence that is not the result of a bona fide illness.
2. Failing to provide the appropriate documentation, when requested, for any instance of paid sick leave.
3. Failing to provide an updated physician's certification for a continuing absence.
4. Taking an unexcused absence or failing to provide proper notification for an absence.
5. Requesting sick leave hours in excess of the number of hours accrued and available to cover the absence.
6. Using an excessive amount of sick leave, which is defined as absences on a monthly or annual basis that are greater than the number of hours or days accrued, except due to instances of extended illness or injury.
7. Failing to report off work for an absence or failing to follow departmental reporting off guidelines.

Employees will be subject to immediate termination for violations that include but are not limited to the following:

1. Submitting an altered or falsified physician's statement.

TARDINESS:

The University expects employees to report to work, on time, each day for their scheduled start time. Unless otherwise approved by a supervisor, an employee will be considered tardy if they report to work after their scheduled starting time.

Employees will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action up to and including termination for violations that include but are not limited to the following:

1. Incurring four (4) instances of tardiness in a rolling thirty (30) day period.
2. Incurring sixty (60) minutes of docked time in a rolling thirty (30) day period.
3. Incurring more than twelve (12) instances of tardiness in any fiscal year, which runs from July 1 through June 30.

TIME OFF REQUESTS:

Employees are required to complete and submit a request for leave, for all instances involving any type of leave.

The University reserves the right to designate specific periods of time when requests for time off will not be approved due to significant peak periods of campus operations.

Employees will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action up to and including termination for violations that include but are not limited to the following:

1. Failing to request or submit a request for leave as instructed by their department.

MISCELLANEOUS:

An employee who begins their shift on a holiday will receive time and one-half (1 ½) for all consecutive hours worked following the start of their shift. To be eligible for this holiday pay, an employee must be in active pay status on their regularly scheduled work days prior to and subsequent to the holiday.

When the University closes because of a weather emergency, employees who were not scheduled to work due to a scheduled vacation or due to sick leave will be charged for the leave, regardless of the declared emergency. An employee cannot change a submitted leave request once a supervisor has approved the leave, for example, from sick leave to vacation.
